MONUMENT TO MAJ. MOREHEAD

On Historic Spot he Loved so Well.

In Resolutions Adopted by Directors of Battle Ground Company Yesterday Is Resolution to Erect Monument to Memory of Late President of Company—Thanks to Those Who Fought For Appropriation In Congress.

At a called meeting of the directors of the Guilford Battle Ground Association yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock in the directors' room of the Greensboro National Bank resolutions of respect to the memory of Maj. Joseph M. Morehead were adopted:

Resolutions of thanks were also voted to Congressman John Motley Morehead, Senator Lee S. Overman and Congressman Chas. R. Thomas for their services in securing the passage of the bill appropriating $30,000 for a monument to Gen. Nathaniel Greene, to be erected at the Battle Ground. This bill has passed the Senate and also the House in amended form and is now "gone to conference," which, Congressman Morehead writes, means that the bill will be enacted into law.

On March 15 the annual meeting of the company will be held and the work for the coming year mapped out.

The resolutions in honor of Major Morehead follow:

Whereas, the intelligence of the death of our respected and beloved president, Maj. Jos. M. Morehead, on the 1st day of January, 1911, has been received by us with sincere sorrow and

Whereas his services in behalf of this company have been great and unselfish and his virtues as a citizen marked and conspicuous; it is meet and proper that we should express our recognition of them in appropriate terms.

Resolved—In the early days of the company, when the patriotic impulse and restless mental activity of that great man Judge David Schenck inaugurated its formation and organization, he was ever ready to assist him in every effort which tended to advance its success, and during the last two years of Judge Schenck's life, when though weakened by sickness, he was still struggling regardless of physical suffering to place upon a firm foundation the offspring of his patriotic affection, Major Morehead was truly his right hand.

In 1902 he became president of the company and until his death devoted his best energies to the work confided to him with an intelligent zeal which had no limit and an unselfish sacrifice which won for him the love and admiration of all North Carolinians who know of his work and who rejoice in the unstained honor of our commonwealth.

He realized that a land without monuments is a land without memories, and that in such a land patriotism rarely finds a home. Hence he was unceasing in his efforts to place upon the Battle Ground monuments to perpetuate the renown of its heroes and of others who had contributed to the glory of our State. Through his instrumentality many have been reared upon the Battle Ground. By his unceasing efforts a bill has within the last few days passed both houses of our national legislature appropriating thirty thousand dollars to provide for the erection of a monument in memory of Major-General Nathanael Greene and the officers and soldiers of the Continental army who participated with him in the battle of Guilford Court House.

The chief and great desire of his last days was to have the Battle Ground declared a national park by our government, with national supervision and care, believing that thus could be perpetuated until the end of the Republic the aims, designs and results of the formation of the company. To this end he contributed more than all others, and if his hopes of success shall ever be realized, the result can be justly attributed to his efforts.

Resolved—The cardinal traits of his character were truth, sincerity and charity. Sustained by these great qualities he was incapable of meaness in any of its many forms. He was wonderfully accurate in all statements of fact; he abhorred and scorned duplicity and cant, and his most intimate friends will fail to remember an instance where he ever injured the fame and good name of any man or attempted to do so by language of obloquy and reproach, or by repetition of sc[illegible]ether true or false. His home l[illegible]as made beautiful by his love for his family, by the affectionate tenderness and considerate attention ever manifested to them, carrying a happiness and charm which long continued sickness failed to destroy or lessen.

Great was his love for North Carolina. He rejoiced in the traditions, the honor and renown of her people. By his death came to his State, to the county and city where he made his home, great and grievous loss. With this company it is simple truth to say that not one will be found to fill his place.

Resolved—That commemorative of his work amidst the scenes where he loved to wander with his associates and dwell upon the virtues of heroes whose names are there written in bronze and marble, that a monument be erected by this company to his memory. Let it be high, broad, and worthy of the man. If for any reason this just tribute shall be neglected in the days to come to the tourist who lingers upon the Battle Ground and asks to be pointed to his monument, the answer will be given "Si monumentum re quiris, circumspice."

Resolved—That this tribute of affection be spread upon the records of our company and that a page with the badge of mourning be set apart for that purpose.

Resolved—That a copy of these resolutions be furnished the family of our deceased friend with the assurance of our profound sympathy.

CUT MULE TERRIBLY.

Brutal Work of Unknown Person Monday Night—Animal Had To Be Killed.

Some time Monday night an unknown person went into the stable of William Gwynn, colored, East Washington street, and cut Gwynn's mule in a most horrible manner, inflicting injuries so serious that the owner was forced to have the animal killed yesterday.

The mule was horribly cut, both the leaders on his hind legs being severed so the animal could not stand. It was at first thought that the cuts were made by revolver shots, the balls splitting the skin, but a closer investigation showed that a keen edged instrument was used in inflicting such cruelty upon the dumb brute.

Gwynn states that he has no idea as to who could have been so barbarious to the animal. If anyone has any grudge against him he is not aware of the fact. If the person is caught he will no doubt be given full justice for his work.

FOR NOMINATION OF COMMISSIONERS

Democrats Will Most Likely Hold Caucus About First or Middle of March At Which Time Democratic Candidates For Mayor and Commissioners Will Be Named.

As yet no one has announced his candidacy for the offices of mayor or commissioner of the city. It is quite probable that the Democrats of all factions will hold a caucaus, which every Democrat in the city will be urged to attend, about the first or middle of March, at which time the Democratic candidates will be chosen. The members of the City Democratic Executive Committee are considering such a course and the plan is regarded as an ideal one by a large number of Democrats. In case a meeting is held every Democrat in the city will be urged to attend and vote for the man he thinks best suited for the position in order that the best men possible may be nominated.

The nominations for the general primary have to all be in by April 14, 10 days before the general primary. The general election occurs on May 2.

Lost Big Sum of Money.

Yesterday morning Mr. Harvey Brady, of Madison, came to the city with $200 in his pocket, a $100, a $50, four $10 and two $5 bills. While going along South Elm street Mr. Brady lost his purse, containing the above amount. He at once notified the police of his loss, but last night nothing had been heard of the money.

PROPER CREDIT WAS NOT GIVEN

To Counties Reported as Paupers.

So Declares Senator Gardner, of Cleveland, in Resolution—Said Cleveland Would Show Balance If All Credits Were Given—Resolution Calls For a Revised List—Action Postponed Until Treasurer Lacy Can State Position.

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 14. — In the Senate this morning Senator O. Max Gardner, of Cleveland, introduced a joint resolution of vital interest to many counties in the state. It is directed to State Treasurer B. R. Lace to forthwith furnish to this General Assembly a revised list of the counties after having credited them with the taxes paid on public service corporations, bank stock and corporate excess. Speaking to his resolution Senator Gardner in a clear, vigorous address told of the mortification and humiliation his county had suffered on account of the charge that it was a pauper county. He showed by the report of the state treasurer that Cleveland county was accredited with receiving $2,884.09 more than it paid into the state and that the treasury had failed to credit his county with the taxes paid direct into the treasury by the public service corporations, banks and corporate excess and that his county paid $3,008.49 in this manner, thus making it a surplus county by $124,35. He charged that the only money credited to the various counties by the treasurer has been the money paid by the sheriffs, and that the money from the counties paid on public service corporations has not been credited to the accounts of the various counties. The senator cited the financial condition of other counties as bearing out his claims and showed the difference if they had been credited with all taxes from whatever source paid by them into the state treasury. He contended that it was a slander to publish to the world that certain counties were deficit or pauper counties, when they actually paid more money into the state treasury than they received from the state. He said he did not desire to criticise Mr. Lacy, but argued that he should be required to change his system of bookkeeping so as to be fair to all counties. Senator Gardner asked for the immediate passage of his resolution.

Senator Johnson, of Duplin, said he also represented two pauper counties as shown by the report of the state treasurer, which he claimed was not fair to his two counties and announcing that he was in hearty sympathy with the resolution. He urged its adoption.

Senator Pharr, of Mecklenburg, thought it would be better to have the resolution referred to a committee so as to give Mr. Lacy an opportunity of being heard; that he was an efficient and faithful officer and that it would not be fair to him to criticise him unjustly by passing the resolution at once.

Senator Baggett, of Harnett, said he represented a pauper county, but that the Senate ought not to act with too much haste in so important a matter and that the resolution should be referred.

Senator Bassett, of Edgecombe, sympathized with the pauper counties, as they are called, but that the state treastreasurer should not be criticised in this matter and ought to be given the chance to be heard before definite action was taken. He believed Mr. Lacy to be a splendid, conscientious officer who is discharging his duty in a sense of fairness and justice and that the resolution should be referred.

Senator Hicks, of Granville, also opposed immediate action, and on his motion the resolution was referred to the committee on propositions and grievances.

Junior Civic League.

A very important meeting of the Junior Civic League of the city has been called for this afternoon. The meeting will be held in the Smith Memorial building, at 3:30 o'clock. All members of the league and all boys and girls who wish to become members are urged to be on hand promptly at the hour. Mothers are requested to see that their children attend the meeting.

A substantial daily increase in the treasurer's revenues shows that the Playground Stamp is taking with the public.

ENJOYABLE TIME AT WEST MARKET

Philatheas and Baracas Banqueted Last Evening—The Decorations In St. Valentine Fashion and Were Most Charmingly Arranged.

Last evening in the West Market Street Methodist church annex the Wheeler Philathea class was hostess to the First Philathea class (Mrs. Alderman's) and the Baraca class of the Sunday school of that church at a most delightful banquet. Fully two hundred were present and everyone enjoyed the occasion to the fullest extent.

The guests and hostesses first assembled in the auditorium where a short program, consisting of a piano solo by Miss Maie Dorsett, a reading by Miss Rosalie Smith and a vocal solo by Miss Hazel Neff, of the G. F. C. faculty, was charmingly rendered. At the conclusion of the program Mrs. J. M. Rankin, chairman of the social committee of the Wheeler Philatheas, invited those present to assemble in the hall below.

Upon entering this room one was immediately impressed with the fact that this was St. Valentine's day. The banquet table was arranged in the shape of a huge heart, over which was a canopy, composed of hundreds of red hearts. The room was lighted with candles in silver candelabra, the shades being of red hearts. Souvenirs of red hearts, inside of which was represented Dan Cupid with his quiver of arrows with one fitted to his bow, were at each place.

The first course served was chicken salad, fried oysters, celery, pickles, wafers an mints. Dr. J. H. Wheeler acted as toastmaster and in introducing the speakers spoke of the growth of organized class work. The first toast was "Music" and this was responded to by Miss Neff, who sang a selection. "The Organized Class," was the toast responded to by Mr. C. H. Ireland. "The Superintendent" was the next toast. Mr. S. L. Alderman was to have responded, but as he was unavoidably detained, Dr. J. S. Betts was called on and he responded with a deserved tribute to the faithfulness of Mr. Alderman.

The second course, consisting of black coffee and fruit cake, was then served, after which Dr. Wheeler called on the pastor, Rev. E. K. McLarty, who spoke on the "Relation of the Pastor to the Sunday School." At the conclusion of Mr. McLarty's remarks the banqueters dispersed, all voting the Philatheas the most delightful hostesses.

For more than a week the young ladies had been busy arranging the details of the evening and the success of the banquet is only an evidence of what can be accomplished by organized effort.

THIMBLE CLUB MEETS.

Ladies of Order of Eastern Star Busy With Needles Yesterday.

The O. E. S. Thimble Club was entertained by Miss Lelia Pitts at her home on West Lee street Tuesday afternoon, and as usual the ladies were busily engaged in dainty needlework. The floral decorations in the hall and parlor consisted of pink carnations and ferns, and in the dining room everything was appropriate to St. Valentine's day. The room was darkened and chandelier and candelabra shed a rosy light through red shades. The color scheme was carried out in the decorations in a profusion of red hearts and cupids, red carnations and in the heart-shaped sandwiches and mints which were served with a dainty salad course.

The club members present were Mesdames Dildine, Lampman, Blackburn, Andrews, Johnson, Myrick, Matthews, Moorefield and Morris, Misses Nunn, Banner, Clymer, Pitts, Blanche Johnson and Eva Johnson. Mrs. Cobb, of Rhode Island, and Mrs. Maddox, of Greensboro, were the guests of the club.

He may be allowed to settle the matter by paying into court the necessary amount, or he may have to face the court.

CAUGHT HIS MAN AFTER LONG CHASE

Policeman McCuiston Takes Out After Fleeing Negro Who Drew Gun—Finally Landed and He Was Wanted.

While Policeman McCuiston was in the eastern section of the city yesterday afternoon he saw Bernard Bouldin, colored, speeding down East street at a seemingly unnecessary pace. He called to him to halt, but instead Bouldin increased his speed. The officer gave chase and the negro jerked out a pistol, the policeman doing likewise. "Bang," went the officer's weapon, followed by a stern command to the negro to drop his gun. At this juncture the negro gave a last look at the leveled revolver behind him, threw the pistol he was holding as far as he could, and cleared a three-foot embankment and a two and half foot ditch beyond. Nothing daunted the officer did likewise and seeing that he could not escape the negro stopped and was soon resting with manacles around his wrists. Mr. McCuiston sprained his right ankle in making his marvelous jump, but did not hesitate until he caught his man.

He brought Bouldin to the calaboose on the charge of carrying a concealed weapon and it was soon found that the prisoner was the negro who about a week ago shot Mattie Caveness, a negro woman living on East street. The wound was of little consequence and she has been trying to cover the particulars. However, the officers have been on the lookout for the negro ever since, though at the time he was chasing Bouldin Officer McCuiston did not know that he was the one who did the shooting.

BASKETBALL AT THE UNIVERSITY

The Team This Season Has Won Every Game—Some Interesting Facts In University Record.

Chapel Hill, Feb. 13.—This year a basketball team which is the first basketball team ever put out by Carolina has surprised everybody by the success it has made of the season so far. Davidson was defeated Wednesday night in a fierce contest, in the last minute of which Carolina had a lead of only one point. The team has won every one of the four games played so far. The University of Virginia will play here February 24. In basketball as in every other sport in which Carolina engages the Virginia game will mark the climax of the season.

The University Record for 1911 is made up of the productive work of the scientific faculty of the University during the 115 years since the foundation of the institution. Among other interesting points is the following: "In 1827 President Caldwell erected a building in which he could make use of the telescope and other astronomical apparatus bought by him in London. So far as known, this was the first observatory to be erected in connection with any institution of learning in America." The Record gives an account of the work of Dr. Elisha Mitchell, who was killed while making observations on the top of the mountain which bears his name.

NEAR-BEER BILL PASSES SENATE

Back to House For Concurrence.

If Lower House Concurs In Minor Amendment That Beverage Cannot Lawfully Be Sold After July First—Amendments Specify What Preparations Druggists May Sell—Much Discussion.

Raleigh, Feb. 14.—The Kent House bill prohibiting the sale of near-beer, beerine or other like drinks came up as a special order in the Senate this morning and provoked a lively debate. The committee offered an amendment defining more clearly the character of preparations that druggists may sell and Senator McLaughlin offered an amendment substituting the word "or" for the word "and" in line 36 of the printed bill, making it read as it was originally drafted.

Senator Bassett offered two amendments, one allowing the sale of non-intoxicating cider and the other extending the time for the bill to take effect from June 1 to July 1, 1911.

Senator Green, of Craven, offered an amendment requiring express and railroad companies to publish every month the names of all persons to whom liquor is shipped into the state.

Senator Boyden, of Rowan, offered as a substitute a bill entitled an act to make prohibition more effective and save it from assassination by its friends, the substitute providing that it shall be unlawful for any person who served as a member of the General Assembly from 1905 to 1911 inclusive, or who shall be a member of the General Assembly from and after the passage of this act, who the records of the General Assembly shall show to have voted for the enactment of prohibition legislation, to take a drink of spirituous, vinous or malt liquors. That any person violating the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a felony and upon conviction shall be punished by death.

Senator Brown, of Columbus, said the committee had given the bill careful consideration and he opposed all other amendments and would call the previous question.

Senator Rascoe, of Bertie, favored the amendment of Senator Bassett extending the time to July 1.

Senator Hartsell, of Cabarrus, declared that the other amendment of Senator Bassett allowing the sale of cider was a subterfuge.

Senator Barham, of Wayne, made a speech against prohibition in general, and Senator Hicks, of Granville, spoke in its favor. Senator Boyden concluded the debate by saying that he hoped the people of North Carolina would soon come back from their fanaticism.

The amendments of the committee and of Senator McLaughlin were adopted. Senator Bassett's cider amendment was defeated by a vote of 30 to 16, but his other extending the time to July 1 carried by a vote of 33 to 12.

Senator Green's amendment was defeated by a vote of 22 to 16.

The bill then passed second reading by a vote of 41 to 3. It passed third reading and was ordered sent to the House for concurrence in the Senate amendment.

The state highway commission bill was made special order for Friday at 12 o'clock.

A joint Democratic caucus was announced for Friday night.

Egg Basket Stolen.

Yesterday afternoon someone stole an egg basket left by Mr. G. K. Shaw in his wagon for a few minutes. Mr. Shaw drove into the hitching lot in the rear of The Telegram office and hitched his horse, leaving a basket containing six and a half dozen eggs, in the wagon until he could step into a nearby store. When he returned a few minutes later both basket and contents were missing. It is a safe prediction that someone will have eggs, both fried and scrambled, for breakfast this morning.

'ROUND ABOUT RICHMOND.

A Touring New Yorker's Impressions of Confederate Capital.

Don Seitz, in New York World.

The war-worn Richmond is no more. A splendid city is growing with true American rapidity and on lines of splendor. Beautiful and majestic homes are plentiful and majestic business buildings are creeping into the sky. Big steel works clang and roar on Belle Isle, where the prison is now but a memory. Tobacco is doing much of it, but improved agriculture and intense industry are doing more. The South is solid—in wealth and progress—and Richmond is still its capital!

Uncle Sam still has some sentiment. Two sections of the walls of the old postoffice are being worked into the new one now building, because they were the only ones that stood when Godfrey Weitzel marched into the flaming town in April, 1865. The architect has followed the old lines.

Richmond now has 127,628 people, an increase of 50 per cent, in 10 years. Some 40,649,840 folks rode in her "Jim Crow" cars last year. It is a city of churches. They are well attended, and a few days ago 5,000 members of men's Bible classes marched in a street parade. There are more than 14,000 Baptists in the town. The Presbyterian population has grown considerably within the year through the addition to it of Major James Calvin Hemphill, who came up from Charleston, S. C., to edit the Times-Dispatch.

A colored chauffeur can be hired for $25 a month in Richmond.

The National Flag.

The first display of the national flag at a military post was at Fort Schuyler, on the site of the present city of Rome, N. Y. The fort was besieged early in August, 1777. The garrison was without a flag, so one was made according to the prescription of congress by cutting up sheets to form the white stripes, bits of scarlet cloth for the red stripes, and the blue ground for the stars was made from a piece of the blue cloak belonging to Captain Abraham Swartwout of Dutchess county, N. Y. This flag was unfurled over the fort on Aug. 3, 1777.

The national flag was first unfurled in battle on the banks of the Brandywine Sept. 11, 1777. The flag was first hoisted over a foreign stronghold June 28, 1778, when Captain Rathbone of the American sloop of war Providence captured Fort Nassau, on the Bahama islands. Captain Paul Jones was the first man to display the American flag on an American vessel. This flag was made by the women of Portsmouth, N. H., for the Ranger, which was fitted out at that port for Captain Jones. The Ranger sailed from Portsmouth on Nov. 1, 1777.

Our Political Postoffice.

John Wanamaker was Postmaster-General; Senator Boies Penrose is chairman of the great Postoffice Committee of the United States Senate; Thomas H. Carter, Senator from Montana, has served many years on that committee.

No three men in the United States are better versed in postoffice affairs and needs than these.

On February 9, 1911, The Senate Postoffice Committee, under the leadership of Senators Penrose and Carter, reported favorably to the Senate for action the Postoffice Appropriation bill, containing a provision, put in without allowing a public hearing or open consideration, but under political pressure from the White House, that increases the postage rate on magazines and periodicals to such an extent that it practically absorbs all the profits of the publishing business of the country and make the further production of popular-priced magazines impossible. It imposes a tax that is confiscatory.

Notwithstanding, within the year Senator Boies Penrose, said, referring to the Carter-Weeks bill:

> "These are some of the big features of the bill. The whole intent is to systematize and to moderinze the entire postal system. It is idle to take up such questions as apportioning the cost for carrying second-class mail matter or the proper compensation of railroads for transporting the mails until we shall have established business methods in postoffice affairs by a reorganization of the whole postal system.
>
> "The commission unanimously recommended the passage of the projected bill. Personally I have been very much interested in all the details and, of course, am heartily in favor of the changes to be made."

Senator Carter said last March:

> "But I must forego further pursuit of details. The bill was cordially approved by Postmaster-General Meyer and his assistants, and likewise has the approval of Postmaster-General Hitchcock. It failed of passage during the last Congress owing to lack of time for its proper consideration, but I have reintroduced the bill, which is now designated Senate 6287, Second Session, Sixty-first Congress. The Committee on Postoffices and Postroads will favorably report the bill to the Senate, and it should be enacted into law before the close of this session. I believe not only that it will increase efficiency but that, after the expense of installation is absorbed, it will result in such economies in the administration of the department and service as will ere long wipe out the deficiency. In operating under it the department will be able with almost unerring certainty to determine the actual cost of each service performed, thereby reaching a sound basis for legislation such as is neither available nor obtainable under the present system.
>
> "I deeply sympathize with the earnest desire of the department officials to get rid of the deficiency they are fated to encounter each year, but I submit that the first real movement toward that end must begin with the substitution of a modern, up-to-date business organization for the existing antiquated system, which rests upon a few sections of law enacted in 1835, supplemented by statutory fragments added from time to time since that year."

John Wanamaker said recently:

> "With Mr. Hitchcock's suggestion, however, there will be no general agreement. The magazines are supported, not by the price paid for the magazine by the readers, but by the advertisers.
> "In a sense magazines are private concerns; but they have a public function to perform—an educational function. To tax the advertisements is to tax the quality of the educational matter contained in the pages, for the advertisements enable the publishers to pay high prices for literature and educational articles. The price paid for a magazine does not pay for the printing and the paper. If Mr. Hitchcock's suggestion should become part of the President's plan it would mean that the public would suffer in the loss of much educational material that the publishers then would be unable to buy."

We urge every friend of honest politics, economical government and a free press to telegraph or write an immediate protest to their Senators and Representatives at Washington.

A Good Way to Cook Trout.

Build your fire and let it burn until you have a good bed of hot stones and ashes. Have your trout, cleaned and washed, ready at hand on anything convenient. Pluck an armful of balsam twigs. Rake out your fire, leaving a base of hot stones and ashes. Upon this base lay balsam twigs till you have a layer from six to ten inches thick. Now put your trout in a row upon this layer and cover with another layer of equal thickness. Over all lay ashes and hot stones. Then smoke your pipe for, say, twenty minutes. When at last you gently remove the coverings you will think at first that the trout have not been cooked at all. There they lie in all their moist beauty, colored as when they first came to your basket. But be careful how you handle them or they will fall apart, so tender are they. Steamed through and through by the heated essences of the balsam, they give out a faint aromatic redolence that adds a subtle perfection to the flavor.—Bannister Merwin in Outing.

The Old Turnpikes.

The first great American highway, that between New York and Philadelphia, was long known as "the old York road." Its construction in 1711 was an example which led the colonists at other points along the Atlantic seaboard to construct similar roads where there were no water routes. They were usually built by chartered companies and were called turnpikes or toll roads. Pennsylvania, Connecticut and New Jersey had many roads of the kind. The first macadam road in America was built in 1792 between Philadelphia and Lancaster. In 1811 there were said to be 4,500 miles of chartered turnpikes in New England and New York. During the next twenty years the national government spent many millions of dollars in constructing great highways, but the panic of 1837 and the building of railroads and canals put an end to that branch of government work.—Youth's Companion.

LIFE INSURANCE IS A BIG INDUSTRY

Company That Greater Richmond Takes a Decided and Growing Interest In.

Richmond has not a few finanicial intitutions of which it is proud. It has not a few of mercantile establishments of which it loves to boast and it has not a few of industrial concerns of which it loves to tell the world. Some of these business and financial and industrial plants commenced their growth in the dark days soon after war and reconstruction, and such of them as started in the flames and grew right up from the ashes and the ash piles following an awful period in the city's and in Virginia's history are Richmond's especial pride.

Among these is the Life Insurance Company of Virginia. It took a lot of nerve for Virginia capitalists and Virginia business men to undertake the life insurance business away back yonder in 1871, when the old State and all the South were but partially recovering from the bad effects of war and reconstruction, but Richmond and Petersburg had nervy men in those days, as it had before and as it has had since. The Life Insurance Company of Virginia, which was originally started in Petersburg and then moved to Richmond, had its ups and downs, as all new enterprises have, but along about the year 1886 the company fell into the hands of mighty good managers and moved to Richmond, and from that time up to this good year 1911 this management has made good, and will continue to make good for the years that are to come.

A Great Year's Work.

The footings for the past year are exceedingly gratifying to the stockholders, to the management and to greater Richmond, which loves a strong home institution. Just a glance at these figures shows that the premium income of the past year amounted to $2,765,737.44, and this was an increase over the business of the previous year of $176,803.40. The gross income of the company was $3,062,146.08, which was an increase of $230,516.01, and the increase in the assets of this well managed business was close to a million dollars, or to be exact was $956,012.58.

New Year's Footings.

Today the company has insurance in force to the amount of $72,440,374, which is an increase over 1909 of $4,102,761. The total number of policies in force as per the books of January 1, are 542,293, which is an increase over the past year of 22,959 policies. Last year the company paid to policyholders, and paid them promptly, to the amount of $966,186.48. Since the organization of the company, away back yonder soon after the War Between the States, the company has paid to policyholders the enormous sum of $10,786,598.97.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Does General Carr think that his popularity is so well established as to be invincible even against the hazard of recommending a $5.00 tax on dogs? The gentleman's friends should take him in hand.

The Panama Canal is to be opened in September, 1913. Announcement is made early, in order. that San Francisco may have time to get her representatives well on the way down before the first gun is fired.

Baltimore and Louisville are about to get into a tilt surpassed only by that of San Francisco and New Orleans, each one setting forth her claims to the Democratic convention next year. What's the matter with Greensboro? Isn't this the logical convention city? Let us send in requisition papers; we may get the convention and a little national renown in the bargain.

It is now pretty well assured that the present Legislature will be asked for a charter to run a railroad from Winston-Salem to Raleigh. Greensboro will, of course, be at least somewhere on the line. But whether this road is built or not, we should not sit down and wait for some one else to give us a railroad. Again, two more would be better than one additional line. Let us hear more from the gentlemen who proposed the line to Roxboro.

Charles K. Hamilton, the American aviator, ascended to a height of 1000 feet in his aeroplane to view the military operations around Juarez, Mexico. He says that the flying machine may be considered a success as a scouting vehicle, declaring that the rifleman isn't living who can hit his machine while traveling at a rate of 500 miles an hour 1000 feet above the earth. But so far as we are concerned, we are traveling in the peace wagon, being disciples of Grant and Andy Carnegie: Let us have peace.

The papers are saying much about the fact that some Cornell students at Ithaca and four Yale students at New Haven were arrested and placed in prison for interrupting moving picture shows, bombarding the police, etc. But why should young men be privileged to violate the law and make of themselves a public nuisance, simply because they are college men? It is a policeman's province not to know anybody when he sees the law violated; but it seems so hard for some people to forget that certain classes should not be exempt from punishment, though the offenders be those who know better and ought to be setting a good example for the lawless.

One hundred magazine publishers have pledged $1000 for each magazine, making a total of $100,000, to fight the proposed increase of magazine postal rates. Monday morning the New York World carried a whole page display advertisement for Everybody's, in which the publishers declared that if the measure was passed it would put Everybody's out of business, since their profits amount to $100,000 per year, while their expenses would mount up to $150,000 per year. But the fact is, the magazines will be likely to continue and the people who read will pay the government through increased subscriptions and single-copy rates. The high-class magazines have done and are doing the country a great service in their crusade against evil methods of trusts, malefactors of wealth, quack doctors, and frauds generally. It is true, however, that the magazine publishers are making money, but they will not suffer to see their profits permanently diminished so long as the present demand for their periodicals continues unabated.

On Friday of last week Mrs. Roberta Menges-Corwin-Hill, a former Brooklyn social leader, was placed in jail in New York to serve a three days' sentence for smuggling thousands of dollars' worth of jewelry and dresses through the port at New York. She is the first woman who has been imprisoned in this country for defrauding the government by smuggling. But the fact that a woman is dishonest and twice a divorcee doesn't render her devoid of friends, so long as she keeps her beauty and her wealth. Women's clubs sent protests to Collector Loeb, Attorney-General Wickersham, and President Taft denouncing the Judge and the District Attorney who were responsible for her punishment. Of course, the protests will amount to nothing. Judge Wise, who inflicted the punishment, says that people who disregard the law must be punished, regardless of wealth or social prestige. That is the kind of judges the country needs; but it doesn't need the votes of women if they are to be of the variety of those composing clubs that fight indignantly against law enforcement, because the victim happens to be a social favorite.

A CAMPAIGN PUZZLE.

Speaker-elect Champ Clark says he is for reciprocity with Canada, with the republics of South America, and, in fact, with all the earth.

Nations are but aggregations of men, and as those men think, so goes the country. When a man runs his hand into his pocket, after a good dinner, and sifts through his fingers a few clinking dollars which he can call his own, the sky takes on a brighter hue, he forgets his enemies, and loves his friends more; and by a sort of telepathic law of the affinity of good nature, all the world is but a mirror for his smile; lengthy and profound deliberation, arithmetical computations and logic are a weariness of the flesh; making friends is easy and easy confidence is likely to displace wariness.

But this is not so much an estimate of Mr. Clark, although Fortune is extremely kind to him, as it seems to be the present status and spirit of that aggregation of citizens which make up the great American republic. Mr. Taft and Mr. Clark are the optimistic epitome of American sanguineness and good living.

People want lower prices for what they buy, but would, of course, not have any diminution in the present unusually high prices for what they produce. And just as certain as we live to see the year 1912, if all these wholesale reciprocity agreements are passed, along with the comparatively momentary and general lowering of tariff duties, there will be some reactionary measures necessary. It will take years so to adjust commercial relations with foreign countries as to reach a generally satisfactory basis of commercial intercourse. It cannot be done at once. But should the wishes of our leaders be enacted into law this year, we shall perhaps know within another twelve months better how to proceed along a more deliberate course. Just now nobody knows which of the great parties is to have the credit for furnishing ultimate and satisfactory relief.

THE IMPORTANCE OF PLAY, AS IT HAS COME TO BE REGARDED IN AMERICA.

Outdoor America.

While England bewails the physical deterioration of her city-bred millions as vitally threatening the future of the nation, the United States has undertaken to solve this problem by methods so wise and sane and hopeful as to comprise one of the most important social movements of the twentieth century. It was quite recently discovered that in the making of normal, vigorous, efficient men and women, the playground is as necessary as the schoolroom. And because a great multitude of American boys and girls, pent up in crowded cities, had no chance to play, they were growing up dull and stunted and vicious. It is true that long ago a very wise man said: "The play of children has the mightiest influence on the maintenance or non-maintenance of laws," but nobody pays much attention to Plato nowadays. The spirit of this modern awakening is more aptly reflected in the words of one of its leaders: "The boy without a playground is father to the man without a job."

The passing of the vacant lot has far graver significance than may appear. The rapid growth of cities has wiped out these open spaces until the majority of dwellers therein must let their children play in the streets or not at all. It was not so very long ago that almost every public park and breathing place displayed the stupid, cruel legend: "Keep Off the Grass." As for the city public schools, they tried to make their pupils wise, but they had no idea of making or keeping them healthy. Today, in most American cities of any importance, the demand for more playgrounds is as insistent as that for better schoolhouses or more of them.

Woman.

She's on the job from morn till night,
  she is a source of rare delight.
She has her fads and follies, but her virtues are the thing;
She stands for all that's good and true and she is noble through and through O, woman, lovely woman, she would make a foghorn sing.

She rises at the break of day and dishes up our breakfast hay.
She scrubs and dresses all the kids and packs them off to school;
She turns out their Sunday clothes, she bakes a pie and mends our hose,
Then makes a tempting dish of jell and puts it out to cool.

She keeps on toiling all day long, but hums a little bit of song.
She sweeps and dusts and mops the floor and plans the evening meal.
She shakes the furnace now and then,
  and makes the bed and cleans the den;
If a man had half as much to do he'd make an awful squeal.

In times of trouble she is great, she takes the knocks and bumps of fate
Without a word of bitterness or whining or regret;
Her stock of patience is immense, she makes a man look like thirty cents;
In joy or sorrow woman is the country's one best bet.

—Detroit Free Press.

THE CHAMPIONS AGAIN VICTORS

Strong Duckpin Team Wins Over Gem Bowlers by Substantial Margin.

The champion duckpin team maintained its supremacy by a good-sized margin last night when it defeated the Gem bowlers by 38 pins, the totals being 1383 for the Gem team and 1421 for the Champions.

The Champions were much elated over their victory as it had been predicted that they would lose their laurels last night. They have never been beaten; they offer a standing challenge to any other team.

The score of Shields in last night's game was an exceptional one—335.

The score for the three games follows:

The Irishman's Resource.

In his volume of essays, "Dreams Dead Earnest and Half Jest," Mr. Coulson Kernahan compares his compatriots, the natives of the Green Isle, with the English:

"That your Englishman never knows when he is beaten is the veriest platitude. In all the world there is no nationality which can play a losing game with such desperate doggedness. I venture to think, however, that the Irishman—and therein is perhaps a reason why he excels in the art of war—is more resourceful, is quicker to think and quicker to act.

"An Englishman, finding himself in a corner so tight that any one else would decide at once that there was nothing for it but surrender or retreat, says, 'Here I am, and here I'll stick to be shot at till I'm killed or till relief comes.' An Irishman in the same place would say: 'It's the mischief's own hole I'm in! But wait now! What way 'll I be getting out?' And get out the Irishman generally does, for he is so resourceful that his resourcefulness might sometimes be better described as slipperiness."

The Making of a Business Man.

So many panes of glass in old Mr. Viner's greenhouse had been broken that he had at last offered a reward of 10 shillings to any one who should give information as to the identity of the latest offender. The bait soon drew. A youngster called on Mr. Viner and informed him that a lad named Archie Thompson was a guilty party. He received his reward, went away rejoicing, and the old gentleman forthwith wrote to the local schoolmaster demanding the production of the said Archie Thompson to make good the damage he had done to his windows.

Next day the informer called again.

"The schoolmaster sent me," he said briskly. "I've seen a glazier, and he'll put your glass right for 8 shillings. Here it is, and"—

"Not so fast, my lad," said Mr. Viner. "Have you come on behalf of Archie Thompson?"

"Well, yes, sir, in a way," said the boy. "Fact is," he continued confidentially, "I'm him!"—London Answers.

Wesley and Tea.

In his younger days John Wesley found it difficult to stop drinking tea. He wrote in 1746: "We agreed it would prevent great expense, as well of health as of time and of money, if the poorer people of our society could be persuaded to leave off drinking of tea. We resolved ourselves to begin and set the example. I expect some difficulty in breaking off a custom of six and twenty years' standing, and accordingly the first three days my head ached and I was half asleep from morning to night. The third day my memory failed almost entirely. On Thursday my headache was gone, my memory as strong as ever, and I have found no inconvenience, but a sensible benefit in several respects from that day to this."

Later in life Wesley returned to the use of tea, as his big teapot preserved in his house in London shows.—Chicago News.

AROUSING INTEREST IN GOOD ROADS

Good Roads Association Sending Out Letters Urging Every Man In the County to Attend Meeting Saturday.

A representative of The Telegram ran across Mr. Samuel L. Trogdon yesterday afternoon with his arms full of mail and asked what was the news. "I am not think about anything but good roads just about now," said Mr. Trogdon, who is secretary of the Guilford County Good Roads Association. "As you know, we have called a mass meeting of the people of the county at the opera house at ten o'clock next Saturday morning and we are trying to get as nearly as possible every man in the county who is interested in good roads at that meeting. Mr. W. L. Spoon, the State highway engineer, will make an address on the subject of building roads and keeping them in repair, especially the question of making all the dirt roads of the county at least passible at all seasons of the year. Mr. Spoon thinks that the best way to do this is to use a simple, home-made contrivance known as a split log drag, and the use of this Mr. Spoon will demonstrate at some convenient place immediately upon the close of his address.

"We also want to bring before the people the proposition of organizing a local good roads association in each of the townships of the county.

"In a word, the best way to have good roads is to get all the people interested in the subject, and not only to get them interested but to have an expert tell them the best way to go about it.

"The County Commissioners are doing splendid work in the matter of building roads, and they are in hearty accord with us in this matter and have joined with our association in requesting all the people who possibly can to attend this meeting."

Another Mileage Bill.

In the House yesterday Representative Kirkman, of Guilford, introduced a bill requiring railroads to give all passengers a two cent rate, unless the roads agreed to sell mileage at 2 cents and allow it to be pulled on trains when the passenger was bound for points on the line the train he boards passes. In case the passenger uses two lines he can be compelled to have mileage exchanged for a ticket. This bill, which imposes a penalty of $500 for a violation, was drawn by the directors of the T. P. A. of this state at a meeting held in Greensboro Monday night.

Mrs. Beard Here In the Interest of Her Books.

Mrs. Ida M. Beard, of Winston-Salem, is in the city in the interest of her books, "The Mississippi Lawyer," Or Was It All a Dream" and "My Own Life or a Deserted Wife". Both are very interesting books and Mrs. Beard is meeting with much success in Greensboro in making sales of her writings. The book entitled "My Own Life," which was the first written of the two, is now in its seventh edition. The other book was completed only recently, but it will no doubt prove equally as popular as the first one.

HOWARD GARDNER'S UNUSUAL OFFER.

"It isn't often that I have faith enough in the medicine put up by other people to be willing to offer to refund the money if it does not cure," said Howard Gardner to a Telegram man who dropped into his store, "but I am glad to sell Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia on that basis.

"The Dr. Howard Company, in order to get a quick introductory sale, authorizes me to sell their regular fifty cent bottles at half price, 25 cents, and, although I have sold a lot of it, and have guaranted every package, not one has been brought back as unsatisfactory.

"I am still selling the specific at half price, although I cannot tell how long I shall be able to do so, and anyone who is subject to constipation, sick head ache, dizziness, liver trouble, indigestion or a general played out condition, ought to take advantage of this chance. You can tell your readers that if they are not satisfied with the specific they can come right back to my store and I will cheerfully refund their money."

Help the orphans by going to the Smith Memorial building Friday evening. You can get a good supper for ten cents, be highly entertained with pretty tableaux and good music. Send the children in the afternoon and let them have a good time riding in automobiles. It costs only five cents, then they can buy cream, cake and home-made candy.

We have in stock several dozen pairs of men's and women's shoes that are solid and all right but for some reason or other are "slow sellers." Now, we haven't got any room in this store for slow sellers and have marked these shoes so low that they are going to "move on" at a lively rate. Ask to see them next time you come in. Maybe you will find just what you need, and if so you can save from fifty cents to a dollar on a pair.

In a few weeks you will be wanting slippers for your little girls. They are sure to want a pair as soon as it turns warm, and here's where you can save money again. We carried over about fifty pairs from last season and are going to close these out cheap if possible before the new stock comes in. Ther are also three or four dozen pairs of women's slipeprs from last season to go at very much reduced prices. The cut price sale of girls' shoes is still going on, and we still have nearly all sizes, but they are going fast now.

THACKER & BROCKMANN.

The ladies will serve supper at the Smith Memorial building next Friday evening. For 25c. you get chicken salad, beaten biscuit, pickles, celery and cold boiled ham, and for a little more you can add coffee, ice cream and cake, and all of the very best make. A PRIME FACTOR IN BUSINESS

Business men find a banking account absolutely necessary to the proper transaction of their business accounts.

Besides affording the greatest convenience, and assuring the dispatch in the transfers of moneys, accounts paid by checks insures the payer against any possible loss or wrong payment, and when canceled, is the best receipt to be had. But in addition to the necessity of a bank account, there are many ways in which association with a strong bank can further the interests of any business.

THE CORONATION PLAN.

Quaint and Archaic Customs Preparatory to the Great Event in London.

New York Times.

A splendid pile carpet of striking design to cover the entire nave is being woven for the coming coronation. Royal blue will be the foundation color. The ornamentation will include emblems of the Order of the Garter and other heraldic devices, with the pattern on such a scale that the design is matched only once in each 20 feet.

Several of the highest officials of the State, constituting the Court of Claims, have been sitting in solemn conclave, wearing their uniforms, robes of office, and orders, to pass upon the rights of various noblemen and others to perform certain parts in the ceremony. These claims are mostly archaic in their origin and quaint in the eyes of Americans.

The Dean and Chapter of Westminster have the right to retain the robes and ornaments, the Earl of Shrewsbury to carry a white wand as Lord High Steward of Ireland, the Duke of Newcastle to provide a glove and support the King's right arm while holding the sceptre by virtue of the tenure of the Manor of Worksop, and Barons of the Cinque Ports to bear canopies.

Various other hereditary rights were confirmed by the court, many of these rights carrying with them fees such as five yards of scarlet cloth to the clerk of the crown and 40 ells of crimson velvet to Earl Carrington, the Lord Great Chamberlain, whose fees for occasional appearances at high ceremonials of State amount to some $100,000 a year.

Three claimants appeared for the right to carry the Great Spurs—the Earl of Loudon, Lord Grey de Ruthyn and Lord Hastings. Sir Marteine Lloyd makes claim to carry the King's silver harp, as Lord Marchler of the Barony of Kemes, a position held by his ancestors through a thousand years, and James Thorne Roe de Morley wishes "to bear the royal standard of England and receive fees."

The former claims are under consideration and the last was vetoed. The request of the Earl of Erroll to walk in the procession as Lord High Constable of Scotland and have a silver baton of 12-ounce weight with the King's arms in gold on one end and his own on the other was graciously allowed.

"But who is to provide the baton?" the Earl asked anxiously.

"Oh, the court, says nothing about that," replied the Lord Chancellor.

One Last Delight.

"I thought you were going to file your application for divorce this week?" says the bosom friend.

"I had intended to," replied the distressed wife, "but John is going to a stag dinner next week, and I concluded to wait and give him a farewell piece of my mind when he comes home from it."—Chicago Post.

SPEEDY RELIEF FROM KIDNEY TROUBLE.

"I had an acute atack of Bright's disease with inflammation of the kidneys and bladder and dizziness," says Mrs. Cora Thorp, Jackson, Mich. "A bottle of Foley's Kidney Remedy overcame the attack, reduced the inflammation, took away the pain and made the bladder action normal. I wish everyone could know of this wonderful remedy." Howard Gardner.

But never follows the use of Foley's Honey and Tar, which checks the cough and expels the cold. M. Stockwell, Hannibal, Mo., says: "It beats all the remedies I ever used. I contracted a bad cold and cough and was threatened with pneumonia. One bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar completely cured me." No opiates, just a reliable household medicine. Howard Gardner.

TO OUST MURPHY.

Democratic League Banking on Revolt in Organization.

New York Times.

The movement which was quietly started last week by a number of prominent Democrats to wrest control of the Tammany organization from Leader Charles F. Murphy and purify the party in the State received a decided impetus yesterday, when several of the leaders of the proposition met and discussed plans for the future. It was decided to unite all factions opposed to Murphy rule under one head, so that the work can be carried on more effectively. It was also decided to hold meetings almost daily until the organization is perfected and a complete plan of campaign is mapped out.

While this anti-Murphy program was being decided upon, the Senatorial situation remained unchanged. No conference regarding the senatorship took place, although the leaders of the party in the city and State were within a short distance of each other all day.

The present movement to oust Murphy from control of the Democratic organization in the city as well as the State, and to place the party in the State on a better basis so that it will attract independent Democrats is one of the most ambitious that has ever been started. Nothing short of the complete reformation of the party, so far as Murphy and his adherents are concerned is aimed at.

"Murphy must go," is to be the slogan.

Three men who are more active in the movement at this time than any others are William Temple Emmet, Frederic R. Coudert and S. Stanwood Menken. Others who are to take an important part in the proceedings are Thos. Mott Osborne, chairman of the Democratic State League, who was recently appointed head of the Forest, Fish and Game Commission by Governor Dix; William Church Osborn, legal adviser to Governor Dix, and Robert Grier Monroe. The Democratic State League is to be the official organization of the reformers and everything is to be done under its auspices. A city branch of the league is to be incorporated so that it will not interfere with the work of the State league.

Although the present movement assumed tangible form only a few days ago, the idea it stands for has been slowly crystalizing for weeks—in fact, ever since the present Senatorial situation at Albany became acute. It is the opinion of the organizers of the movement that Murphy and his cohorts are slowly but surely wrecking the party in the State, and that no better conditions can be looked for until the Tammany boss has been completely eliminated from the organization.

Falls Victim to Thieves.

S. W. Bends, of Coal City, Ala., has a justifiable grievance. Two thieves stole his health for twelve years. They were a liver and kidney trouble. Then Dr. King's New Life Pills throttled them. He's well now. Unrivaled for Constipation, Malaria, Headache, Dyspepsia. 25c. Fariss-Klutz Drug Co.

Willing to Be Martyrs.

Some years ago a French tradesman stated that he wished to be guillotined instead of a murderer who had been condemned to death. Of course the authorities declined to do as he wished, and he went away vowing that he would give his life for some one else later on.

A Russian peasant who was noted for his quiet piety offered to be shot in order to save a revolutionary who was awaiting the carrying out of the death penalty. This, he said, was not done out of any sympathy for the accused, but merely to show his disapproval of the principle of taking lives of criminals.

Probably the most extraordinary case on record was that of a Quebec citizen who passed himself off as a murderer for whom the police were searching. When the matter was investigated it was found that the self accused man had nothing whatever to do with the crime. "No," he said, "you're right. I'm not the murderer, but my wife leads me such a miserable life at home that I thought I would escape from matrimonial wretchedness by getting the government to hang me."—Pearson's.

An Open Letter.

Kernersville, N. C., Jan. 4, 1911, Vick's Ramily Remedies Co., Greensboro, N. C. Gentlemen:—I have used your Croup and Pneumonia Salve for spasmodic asthma and find it superior to anything I have ever tried. I cheerfully recommend it to any one suffering with this disease. Yours truly, Geo. W. Wilson.

Nothing Unusual.

"I supose, Eileen," she remarked to the new girl, with indifference, "that you overheard my husband and me conversing rather earnestly this morning. I hope, however, that you did not think anything unusual was going on?"

"Niver a bit, mum. Oi wanst had a husband meself, an' niver a day passed that th' neighbors didn't belave one or th' other iv us would be kilt entoirly."—Success Magazine.

He was also successful in getting good prices for the articles offered at auction.

How Plants Remain Upright.

If a flowerpot is laid on its side the stalk of the plant growing in it gradually curves upward until it resumes the vertical position. This is called geotropic curvature, and the question is by what means the plant is stimulated to change its direction of growth. One theory avers that movable starch grains in the plant cells fall to the lower side as the position is changed and by their pressure influence the mechanism of growth.

Curious.
